Future skills are „competences that allow individuals to solve complex problems in highly emergent contexts of action in a self-organised way and enable them to act (successfully)“ (Ehlert, 2020)

Leo-Net Seminar 2023

- Online Course „Hands-on Learning – Practical preparation for an intercultural workplace“ is part of our Erasmus traineeships programme
- Erasmus trainees select up to 5 modules out of 11 to train intercultural, entrepreneurial/business and civic skills; modules are tutored with tasks related to their traineeships
- Competence Pass is an additional voluntary, untutored part of the course for developing students' competences through reflection

“A sustainability competence empowers learners to embody sustainability values, and embrace complex systems, in order to take or request action that restores and maintains ecosystem health and enhances justice, generating visions for sustainable futures.”

Mini World Café

1) Familiarize yourself with the competence dimension of Global Citizenship of the Competence Pass and use the following questions to guide your exchange on the table:

- Does the concept of global citizenship play a role in your mobility programme (which)?
- Do you address green skills/sustainability competence in your learning mobility programme (how)?
- Which added value does a traineeship abroad offer for the development of sustainability competence?

Mini World Café

2) How do you think could the "green skills/sustainability competence" aspect get more room in the Competence Pass reflection?

Feel free to change the guiding questions for reflection or add new ones.

Thank you for your collaboration!
